Jordan Broadworth exhibition at Art Gallery of Peel

The Art Gallery of Peel is planning to continue its longstanding commitment to showcasing the work of Canadian modernist painters with its upcoming exhibition Jordan Broadworth: Paintings from Jan. 11 to Feb. 15.

In his exhibition, Broadworth uses a variety of painting methods as part of the New Abstraction movement in Canada, while challenging the meaning of identity in an increasingly technological world.

"With his use of drips, swirls and loops, Broadworth has created a unique body of works," commented Assistant Curator Judy Daley.

Dedicated to preserving and promoting the Region's artistic heritage, the gallery's exhibitions and permanent collection bring an impressive range of regional, provincial, national and international art making practices to the Peel community.

The Peel Heritage Complex is made up of the Region of Peel Museum, the Art Gallery of Peel and the Region of Peel Archives. Together they collect, preserve and display a variety of materials related to Peel's heritage.

PHC is operated by the Region of Peel and is located at 9 Wellington St. E. in Brampton. The Complex is open to the public Monday through Friday from 10 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.; weekends from noon to 4:30 p.m., and Thursday evenings from 6 to 9 p.m. Admission fees are $2.50 for adults; $1.50 for seniors; $1 for students and $7 for families.

Open Wide.

It could be a pair of track shoes, a theatrical costume, or maybe even a robot suit. If your child has a passion for something, we will harness it and take it to a whole new level. We will eventually attach a big we of sub-woofers to it and allow it to be amplified in the world. If they have eyes to find it, we will dig down deep and explore all the possibilities, and use any tool we can think of to use that opens their mind and their eyes as big as heavenly possible. It's an incredible place to discover big, asking answers to the questions.
